

H. Ronald Klasko is the Managing Partner of Klasko, Rulon, Stock & Seltzer, LLP, one of the UT-authorized immigration law firms. Ron and his firm were chosen by clients and peers as one of the top six immigration firms in the country and “the strongest in the country in representing clients in the university research and medical sectors.” He is a former National President of the American Immigration Lawyers Association. He has been a featured invited speaker for the American Association of Medical Colleges (AAMC) and the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG). He has been Adjunct Professor of Immigration Law at Villanova University Law School and is a frequent author and lecturer on immigration law issues related to academic healthcare institutions. Mr. Klasko was invited to present testimony by the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on the Judiciary and the U.S. Commission on Immigration Reform and has been invited to lecture or provide training for the U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Department of State, INS General Counsel Management Conference, Immigration Judges Association and U.S. Department of Justice. Mr. Klasko is selected annually for inclusion in Best Lawyers in America. Mr. Klasko is the founder and co-chair of NAFSA’s Healthcare Interest Group. His practice emphasizes representation of universities, hospitals and research institutions and their students, scholars, staff and employees.
